

TRUST... The Reality Underlines Solid Truth.. I believe in giving people the truthful reality even if I do not sell a property. If I see a problem or a potential hazard to your pocket and the well being of your investment I will say so. Infact over the last 15 years I have refused to sell to an handful of people when I can see that they will lose and lose painfully . USALocations refuses to sell dreams and fantasy I think Walt Disney already does that very well. So many UK based sellers push the rental income with 80% rentals and hardly ever mention the Home Owner Association Fees HOAs or the fees for any work on aircon or pool heating etc which obviously they will have several associates that will share a fee with them and they will not tell you of that income at all . How open and honest are these people. Honesty for me is the best policy ...Not Greed. These people and organisations still exist 15 years after I first became aware of what was happening with Investment Property that just so happens to be overseas. Today its as bad as ever , USALocations has become an expensive hobby that has become a obsession . After my first trip in September 2003 I was shocked and sickened to see so many UK people being taken advantage of and the most annoying thing is the main culprits are people very often UNLICENSED AND From THE UK. I hate to see people lose money and become worse off and I fight to protect people when they want to grow investment for themselves. Having seen the impact of foreclosure and nasty people just wanting to get their hands on other peoples money as easy as they can. USALocations will fight for a better deal for everyone .

Invest and Deal the very best.

TRUST us , your'll be very impressed.

Regarding USA property investment, USALocations are OPEN and TRUSTWORTHY."
